vagueness. The characteristic of words or phrases whose meaning is not determined with precision.Use of one or more vague terms typically renders it impossible to establish the truth or falsity of the sentences in which they appear. Example: "The temperature is warm today." is difficult to evaluate because there is no clear borderline between "warm" and "not warm".

Kafka. Kafka's works certainly rank among the classics of modern fiction, yet one can't call them "classics" without qualification. Most of Kafka's novels are unfinished, perhaps because Kafka could find no way out of a hopeless dead-end, perhaps because Kafka thought they were unworthy of being finished.

Immanuel Kant (1724-1804) Kant's most original contribution to philosophy is his "Copernican Revolution," that, as he puts it, it is the representation that makes the object possible rather than the object that makes the representation possible [§14, A92/B124, note]. This introduced the human mind as an active originator of experience rather than just a passive recipient of perception.
