A dynamical system is a manifold  $M$  called the phase (or state) space endowed with a family of smooth evolution functions  $\Phi_t$  that for any element of  $t \in T$ , the time, map a point of the phase space back into the phase space. The notion of smoothness changes with applications and the type of manifold. There are several choices for the set  $T$ . When  $T$  is taken to be the reals, the dynamical ...

Rigid-body dynamics studies the movement of systems of interconnected bodies under the action of external forces. The assumption that the bodies are rigid, which means that they do not deform under the action of applied forces, simplifies the analysis by reducing the parameters that describe the configuration of the system to the translation and rotation of reference frames attached to each body.
