During the same period, large numbers of professional or trade associations were doing the same thing. The Americans have been both first and last in this field. They were responding to the earlier development of professional ethical codes in the library world, [2] and also to a distinctive legal culture. During the 1990s, an interest in codes of ethics was to a great extent run in parallel ...

Haigh-Wood was born in Knowsley Street, Bury, Lancashire, the first child of Rose Esther (née Robinson 1860–1941) and Charles Haigh-Wood (1854–1927), an artist and member of the Royal Academy of Arts. Charles was local to the area, but his wife was born in London where the couple had been living, and they had returned to Bury for an exhibition of Charles's paintings at a gentleman's club ...
