Our group published a series of studies concerning a model of burnout development and its possible relationship with depression (Fig. 1, Fig. 2). These studies suggest that burnout is a complex and non-linear phenomenon (Iacovides et al., 1997). For example, Extroversion is positively related to emotional exhaustion during the early stages of burnout development in younger subjects, and at every ...

The business cycle, also known as the economic cycle or trade cycle, is the downward and upward movement of gross domestic product (GDP) around its long-term growth trend. The length of a business cycle is the period of time containing a single boom and contraction in sequence. These fluctuations typically involve shifts over time between periods of relatively rapid economic growth (expansions ...

World War II (often abbreviated to WWII or WW2), also known as the Second World War, was a global war that lasted from 1939 to 1945. The vast majority of the world's countries—including all the great powers—eventually formed two opposing military alliances: the Allies and the Axis. A state of total war emerged, directly involving more than 100 million people from over 30 countries.
