In computer science, binary search, also known as half-interval search, logarithmic search, or binary chop, is a search algorithm that finds the position of a target value within a sorted array. Binary search compares the target value to the middle element of the array. If they are not equal, the half in which the target cannot lie is eliminated and the search continues on the remaining half ...

Explain what is Standard Deviation, Skewness and Kurtosis. Answer is kinda extra, because it was tough to find. Standard Deviation: a quantity expressing by how much the members of a group differ from the mean value for the group. The Standard Deviation is a more accurate and detailed estimate of dispersion because an outlier can greatly exaggerate the range (as was true in this example where ...
